Est. 1906

Vintage Fenton Glass
Pink Pillow Optic Vases

Frank and John Fenton founded Fenton Art Glass in Williamstown, West Virginia in 1906. Carnival Glass, which they called Iridill, was their first immediate success. Fenton Art Glass still thrives today, and is still run by Fenton family members.

During the mid-century Fenton produced the modern colorful glass that the new generation demanded and competed with the popular glassmakers of the day, but they also carefully kept the Fenton reputation alive. Fenton's colors and styles are distinctly Fenton.

In the early years, a black and white label was used. Today, the label is impressed in the glass on the seat of their items, an oval surrounding the word Fenton.
